Sizechart

To find the right shoe size, it's best to measure your foot at the end of the day.

Required: Measuring tape or a flat 30 cm ruler (or similar).

Barefoot or wearing the socks you'll use with the shoes.

1. Lay the measuring tape or ruler flat on the floor, extending at least 30 cm.
2. Place your foot on top of the tape or ruler to measure the length.
3. Measure the distance from the back of the heel to the tip of your longest toe.

Use this measurement to select your shoe size (do not choose a larger one). Important: Measure both feet just in case — one foot may be slightly longer than the other.

Choose your size based on the longer foot.
